The Official Figures in regard to Rebel Disfranchisement in Virginia.

FALSEHOOD is swift of foot, but in the long run Truth is sure to overtake her. During the late campaign one of the most persistently avowed and widely circulated lies of the Democracy was the assertion that, under the Reconstruction acts, the larger portion of the white citizens of the Rebel communities are disfranchised. Negro domination, negro supremacy, white disfranchisement, and white degradation were the oracles which were used to frighten and mislead the people. We have frequently taken occasion to show that, from the very terms of the Reconstruction law, only a very small percentage of the voters in any community could be precluded from voting; and a few days ago we demonstrated the truth that, at the late election in Virginia, a larger proportion of her citizens deposited their ballots than had ever before done so in the history of that State. Now the fact comes out, upon the authority of official returns at General Schofield's headquarters, that the total number of disfranchised voters in Virginia is only five thousand five hundred! This is the "lame and impotent conclusion" to which all these charges of wholesale disfranchisement at last come. Their utter falsity is fully demonstrated. But they served their intended purpose of distracting and confusing the public mind, and doubtless of temporarily alienating many well-meaning voters from the Republican party. The truth is that under the Reconstruction law only the Rebel leaders, the men who were prominent in the work of breaking up the Union, are disfranchised. The law, instead of being harsh in this respect, is remarkably mild. Unless every Rebel is to be restored to full citizenship, it is difficult to see what rule of exclusion could be more just than that which applies only to those men who, in joining the Rebellion, did so at the expense of violating the solemn oaths which they had taken to support and defend the Constitution of the United States.

Wendell Phillips on the Situation.

WENDELL PHILLIPS addressed a large audience at Horticultural Hall last evening, in a powerful speech of two hours' duration. A verbatim report of the same will be found in our columns to-day. As a philosophical exposition of the conflict of ideas in our country, and as an impassioned and moving appeal for such a settlement of the great struggle as shall give us lasting peace and concord between all sections, this speech stands prominent even among the productions of its distinguished author. While few will agree to all that is enunciated in it, yet its general tone and argument are such as must command the conviction of the great mass of intelligent thinkers of all parties. If the principles of our republican institutions are worth anything, they must be the true principles for the settlement of our present difficulties. A settlement on any other basis will prove to be but a hollow truce, and in the end will pave the way for repeated convulsions and fresh disasters. One such terrible contest as we have already passed through for the realization and vindication of our distinctive ideas of government ought to be enough. To invoke another is madness. Mr. Phillips' criticisms upon the position of General Grant have great force, and will continue to have until, by some authoritative expression of his views, he openly identifies himself with the Republican cause, if he shall ever see fit to do so.

All Hail to Minnesota!

THE welcome intelligence comes from Minnesota that we have elected the Republican candidate for Governor by a majority considerably larger than that of two years ago, and that the amendment of the State Constitution securing impartial manhood suffrage has in all probability been adopted. This is like the gleaming of the North Star upon a night of disaster and gloom. All hail to Minnesota!

QUIT THE REVERSE.—Our Democratic contemporary this morning is jubilant over the decision of Judge Agnew, in the Supreme Court of this State, in which he reverses the decision of the lower Court on the subject of the rights of colored passengers. He says that if a railroad company provide seats equal in convenience, comfort, and safety for the colored passengers, there is no law which will enable them to refuse those seats and demand others. Our neighbor remarks that "the negro race God has marked as a separate and distinct people, and this cannot be ignored by the teachings of fanaticism and fools. The radicals are very much excited over this opinion." The utter absurdity of the course of the Democracy on this subject is shown by this very article. The Judge who delivered the opinion was a Republican, and it was assented to by a Republican. What clearer proof than this is required to show the falsity of the statement that the Republican party is in favor of a mixture of races? We favor giving the blacks legal rights, not social privileges. The decision of Judge Agnew is an argument in favor of and not against the radical party.

GENERAL SCHOFIELD has replied to the charge against him of keeping open the polls after the two days directed, and founds his defense on the intent of the law, which directs that all the votes possible should be polled.

Pennsylvania Finances.

The State Senate of Pennsylvania, April 1, 1864, on motion of the Hon. George Connell, proceeded to consider a bill prepared and reported by him, as Chairman of the Committee on Finance, entitled "An Act relating to the payment of interest on the public debt."

The bill, omitting the preamble, read as follows, and was so passed by the Legislature:— "Be it enacted, etc., That so much of an act approved the twelfth day of June, A. D. one thousand eight hundred and forty, as requires the interest on the public debt of this Commonwealth to be paid in specie, or its equivalent, be and the same is hereby repealed, and that the said interest shall be paid by the State Treasurer, as the same shall hereafter fall due, in such notes as have been or shall be declared by any law of the United States of America, to be lawful money and a legal tender in payment of debts, public or private, within the United States.

In support of this measure that Senator delivered, on the occasion of its passing the Senate, one of the ablest and most forcible arguments ever made before that body. From the moment of its introduction the bill had met, from the opposition side of the Senate, the most violent contest. Men like Clymer and Wallace became its bitter opponents; and this great measure of public good, which has already, through the eloquence, ability, and energy of Senator Connell, saved to the taxpayers of the State the enormous sum of FOUR MILLION FIVE HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS, was fiercely contested by the above named Senators from Berks and Clearfield through every stage of the proceeding, and by every means, honorable and dishonorable, known in parliamentary warfare. And when at last a vote came to be taken on the final passage of the bill, the entire Democratic portion of the Senate, led by Clymer and Wallace, with one solitary exception, voted solid against it.

They only enunciated the Sherman doctrine that the National Currency was not "lawful money of the United States," and at a time when our country struggled in its apparent death throes, Senator Connell fought its worst enemies in the Senate at Harrisburg, who struggled to put upon record the declaration that Pennsylvania had rejected as so much worthless paper that which the Congress of the United States, the money-making power, had declared by solemn enactment to be a "legal tender" and a proper national currency.

We append from our able Harrisburg contemporary, the Daily Telegraph, a statement showing the amount of interest due semi-annually, since the passage of the act; the price of gold each day the interest fell due, and the additional cost to the State if the interest had been required in specie:—

Table with columns: Int. Due, Price of Gold, Ad. Cost. Rows for 1864, 1865, 1866, 1867, 1868.

At the next session of the Legislature of Pennsylvania, a State Treasurer is to be elected by that body. We have no individual preference, or no public ones, beyond a desire to secure a fitting successor to the present able incumbent, whose administration has been characterized by remarkable ability and energy, and there is hardly any one more competent than Senator Connell, who, from his large experience in finance and banking interests, his integrity and energy, is eminently fitted for the position, the duties of which he would honestly and zealously administer.

PITTSBURG has had a dreadful boiler explosion, by which twenty lives were lost. Thus another argument is furnished to induce the Legislature of the State to take action on the subject of a general law to prevent these casualties. Local regulations will not suffice. All the State should be comprised under one stringent preventive and remedial statute.

THE PRESIDENT has pardoned the noted counterfeiter Johnston, on the recommendation of Jerry Black. When crime receives no punishment, no wonder that criminals are on the increase.

CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED.

THE TRUE REMEDY at last discovered. UPHAM'S FRESH MEAT CURE, Prepared according to the formula of Professor Troussseau, of Paris.

The new plan of treating pulmonary diseases with Fresh Meat is creating a profound sensation in Europe. Its beneficial results have been heralded through the Press in both hemispheres. The Fresh Meat Cure is the most simple, the most rapid, and the most successful remedy for Consumption, Cough, Spitting of Blood, and all the affections of the Lungs, which have previously yielded rapidly, as by charm, under the new treatment. But it is to Professor Troussseau, of Paris, that the world is chiefly indebted for making known to the afflicted the great feature of the Fresh Meat Cure, it is positively asserted that, "in no less than TWENTY THOUSAND CASES in which it has been tried, it proved successful in NEARLY ALL." The Fresh Meat Cure is now first offered to the American Public as a Proprietary Remedy. It is put up in the form of a Syrup, each bottle containing the nutritious properties of one and a half pounds of Raw Meat. It is pleasant to the taste, and a single bottle of the medicine will contain the most beneficial of its virtues, as the great healthful remedy of the nineteenth century.

In order to place UPHAM'S Fresh Meat Cure within the reach of all classes the prices will be as follows:— $1 a bottle, or 6 bottles for $5. A package of six bottles, sent by express, securely packed, to any part of the United States, on receipt of $5. Sold wholesale and retail by S. C. UPHAM, No. 25 SOUTH EIGHTH STREET, Philadelphia, and Principal Druggists throughout the United States. One bottle without the signature on the wrapper of each genuine of "Samuel C. Upham, Sole proprietor." Circulars sent free to any address.

UPHAM'S FRESH MEAT CURE.

TESTIMONIAL FROM EMERSON BENNETT, THE EMPLOYE NOVELTY.

PHILADELPHIA, March 14, 1867. S. C. Upham, Esq.—Dear Sir—When a man, either through intemperance, discovery, or any other means, contracts a habit of drinking, he is liable to receive the due dose of praise from any one cognizant of the fact.

As I had been in years, for some time a member of my household, was so seriously afflicted with LIVER COMPLAINT, CHRONIC DIARRHOEA, NIGHT SWEATS, LOSS OF APPETITE, and GENERAL DEBILITY, that her life was almost despaired of, and her restoration to health believed to be impossible. Through the physician attending her she was induced to try UPHAM'S FRESH MEAT CURE, and the effect of a SINGLE BOTTLE WAS ALMOST MIRACULOUS. She soon regained better health than she had enjoyed for years, and still remains well, and her friends attribute the cure ENTIRELY TO YOUR REMEDY. The foregoing statement I make voluntarily, as an act of justice to you, and you are at liberty to use it in what manner you please, so it result in PROVING A BLESSING TO SUFFERING HUMANITY.

Very respectfully yours, EMERSON BENNETT, Principal Depot, at UPHAM'S, No. 25 S. EIGHTH STREET, Philadelphia. Sold by all Druggists. Circulars free.

UPHAM'S FRESH MEAT CURE

It is not an alcoholic preparation. It does not contain Brandy, Gin, or Whisky. Alcoholic preparations irritate, inflame, and congest the lungs. UPHAM'S FRESH MEAT CURE is pleasant to the taste, and the single bottle will convince the most skeptical of its virtues. Read the following medical testimony:—

Dr. John H. Steek, of Philadelphia, says:—"We have it in our power to give personal evidence of the value of Mr. UPHAM'S FRESH MEAT CURE, in the case of a young friend of our family, in whom it was prescribed. The immediate effect was an increased appetite, a gradual, steady gain in flesh, and a general improvement in health. These results are due to a single bottle."

Dr. G. W. Blaydes, of Jericho, Ky., under date of August 26, says:—"I have used up the box of FRESH MEAT CURE I purchased of you some five weeks ago, and I confess it HAS SURPASSED ANYTHING I HAVE EVER TRIED IN CONSUMPTION." Consumption, says Dr. UPHAM, is a disease which, if you have not passed too far into "the valley and shadow of death," it will cure you. Sold at UPHAM'S, No. 25, EIGHTH STREET, Philadelphia, and by all Druggists. $1 a bottle, six for $5. Sent by express. Circulars free.

UPHAM'S FRESH MEAT CURE.

Dr. John H. Steek, of this city, says:—"This is not a quick nostrum, and is not to be classed among the generalities of advertised preparations. There is a virtue in raw meat as a tonic, and Mr. Upham has succeeded admirably in combining it with a medium that renders its administration exceedingly pleasant and palatable. The demand for it is increasing constantly. Medical men, not only in this city, but from different parts of the country, are already procuring it for their patients. Having before spoken at some length of this new and remarkable remedial agent, we can only now say that it has rapidly won its way into popular favor, and promises to take the lead of all other preparations for pulmonary affections and other ailments, over which it seems to exercise a specific and most salutary effect."

A CASE OF BRONCHITIS CURED.

PHILADELPHIA, May 29, 1867.—S. C. UPHAM, Sir—My wife contracted a violent cough with a violent cold several weeks standing. At last she could speak above a whisper. I purchased a bottle of "UPHAM'S FRESH MEAT CURE," and she commenced using it according to directions. After taking the first dose her cough was better, and after four or five doses she was cured of her cough, and she has since remained well. I will always keep a bottle of the "MEAT CURE" in my house, for I am satisfied that all that is necessary to convince any one of its merits is to make a trial of it, and I cheerfully recommend it to all whose conditions are such as to require it. I want some of your circulars to send to my friends in New York and Boston.

JOSEPH J. RIVERS, No. 73 Howard street, $1 a bottle, six bottles for $5. Sold by S. C. UPHAM, No. 25 South EIGHTH STREET, Philadelphia, and all Druggists.

UPHAM'S FRESH MEAT CURE.

ANOTHER CERTIFICATE. Mr. Luke Davis, of Irondelet, Missouri, under date of June 1, writes:—"With this you will receive for seven bottles of UPHAM'S FRESH MEAT CURE for Consumption, received six bottles of your 'Meat Cure' about four weeks ago for my brother, and he has taken two bottles of it when last heard from, and said he had received more benefit from it than all the medicine he has taken the past two years." Price, $1 a bottle, six bottles for $5. Sold at UPHAM'S, No. 25 South EIGHTH STREET, Philadelphia, and by all Druggists. Circulars sent free to any address.
